PROFESSIONAL QUALIFICATIONS

ERIC DUNLAP is a certified Appellate, Circuit Civil and County Court mediator, and a federal court mediator for the U.S. Middle District of Florida. Mr. Dunlap obtained his law degree from Cumberland School of Law in 1991, his Masters in Business Administration from Samford University in 1991, and his Bachelors of Science in Business Administration from the University of Central Florida in 1988. In addition to serving as a mediator, Mr. Dunlap serves as an adjunct professor at Barry University School of Law in Orlando, Florida where he teaches Mediation Theory and County Court Mediator Certification courses to students enrolled at the law school. As a Primary Trainer for Florida Supreme Court Certified Appellate, Circuit Civil and County Mediation programs, Mr. Dunlap offers appellate, circuit civil and county court mediator certification training sessions to the public. Businesses, organizations, and agencies may schedule dispute resolution and training sessions to improve dispute resolution techniques essential for healthy employee/employer relations and client relations. Mr. Dunlap also serves on the Mediator Qualifications Board Central Division, serves on the Mediator Qualifications Complaint Committee, and was listed as one of "Orlando's Top Lawyers" in the editions of Orlando Home & Leisure since 2010.

TRAINING METHODOLOGY

The training program will consist of lectures, group discussions, and mediation simulations. Reading materials (statutes, rules of procedure, rules of conduct, and ethics opinions) designed to supplement the training will be provided to trainees at the training program. Trainees will also be required to reduce an agreement to writing.

Trainees are NOT required to participate in a role play exercise for appellate mediation training programs.
